Active Shooter Response Training

An active shooter is an individual actively engaged in killing or attempting to kill people in a confined and other populated area. In most cases, active shooters use firearms and there is no pattern or method to their selection of victims. Active shooter situations are unpredictable and evolve quickly.

All employees can help prevent and prepare for potential active shooter situations. This course provides guidance to individuals, including managers and employees, so that they can prepare to respond to an active shooter situation.

This course is not written for law enforcement officers, but for non-law enforcement employees.

Objectives:

Upon completion, the participant will be able to:

- Describe actions to take when confronted with an active shooter and responding law enforcement officials.
- Recognize potential workplace violence indicators.
- Describe actions to take to prevent and prepare for potential active shooter incidents.
- Describe how to manage the consequences of an active shooter incident.

Emergency Preparedness

The course has been designed to instruct employees how to deal with workplace disasters and other emergencies. At the end of this training course, employees will be able to identify different types of workplace disasters, understand the requirements of the emergency response plan, carry out emergency response assignments effectively, and evacuate quickly and safely in an emergency

Objectives:

- Employee policies and notification.
- Emergency Response Procedures.
- Sheltering in Place and Special Needs
- Identify various means of egress
- Specify the physical requirements for exit routes to comply with OSHA standards
- Identify the components of an emergency action plan
- Specify actions to take in case of an emergency evacuation
- Disclosing suspicious or unusual activities
- Reporting incident details for further review
